To aid the development of Uxello, he has a dedicated office located at Tunzini Martinique, a VINCI Energies business unit, based in Lamentin.

On the ground office and storage space will help him to be more reactive when he manages installations, while optimizing costs for his customers.

He will also coordinate new installations and be subcontracted regularly to work with other Uxello industry business units .

With this new address, uxello offers more services to its historical customers, in the sectors of large retail, distillery and rum distillery and hopes to create new loyal local customers
